

TOWN HALL

Climate Resiliency and Justice In Our Community

COME TO THE
CARTER G. WOODSON
MUSEUM FOR A COMMUNITY
CONVERSATION

Are you worried about losing wages after a hurricane or major storm?

Are those flooded streets dangerous?

If the power is out after a storm, how will you get food and stay cool?

Are those fish safe to eat?

Do you wonder what's in the air you breathe?

Join your neighbors and friends at an informal discussion about Climate Resiliency and Justice. Come and share your thoughts!

Free food and drinks provided!
Bring the family – kids' craft table

This gathering will be held outdoors.

MASKS ARE REQUIRED

WHEN: September 25th, 10 am to 1 pm

WHERE: Carter G. Woodson
African American Museum – Garden
2240 9th Avenue South

You will be provided with a digital link/QR code to access information and resources from your smart phone to help you prepare and recover from a major storm.

SPONSORED BY:

UNIVERSITY of
SOUTH FLORIDA
ST. PETERSBURG CAMPUS

DR. CARTER G. WOODSON
AFRICAN AMERICAN MUSEUM

Foundation for a
Healthy St. Petersburg